¹ When making a complaint to the Board of Ethics and Government Accountability (BEGA), you may remain anonymous if you wish. However, you are encouraged to identify yourself so that we may follow up with you, if necessary, and obtain additional information that will aid us in our investigation. If you give your name, your identity will be protected to the maximum extent allowed by law. It is impermissible for a government employer to retaliate against an employee for reporting information to the BEGA. If you believe that by making a report to the BEGA you may be at risk of reprisal, please inform the BEGA of this fact. Finally, the BEGA may require a person who made or caused to be made a claim, complaint, or request for investigation in bad faith and without merit to pay reasonable fees for time spent reviewing or investigating the claim, complaint or request for investigation and/or reasonable attorneys fees to the respondent for defending against the allegations.
